

A recent photo shows Chifrijo bathed in shade reflecting Ansonia City Hall. The restaurant located at 242 Main St. is celebrating its first anniversary today.

- Photo by Patricia Villers

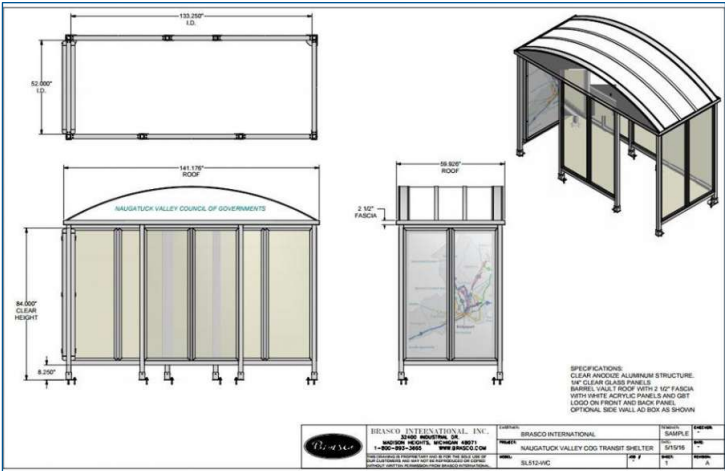

Ansonia to get 3 new bus shelters

ANSONIA - Mayor David S. Cassetti recently announced approval of three bus shelters to be installed along several routes in the city, at no cost to taxpayers.

The announcement follows recent meetings with the Naugatuck Valley Council of Governments.

Read the full story HERE by New Haven Register Correspondent Jean Falbo-Sosnovich.

One shelter will be at the corner of Main and Bridge Streets

Bash to benefit scholarship fund in Ansonia girl's memory

ANSONIA - Leah's Birthday Bash will be held Saturday at Kolbe Cathedral High School, 33 Calhoun Place, Bridgeport.

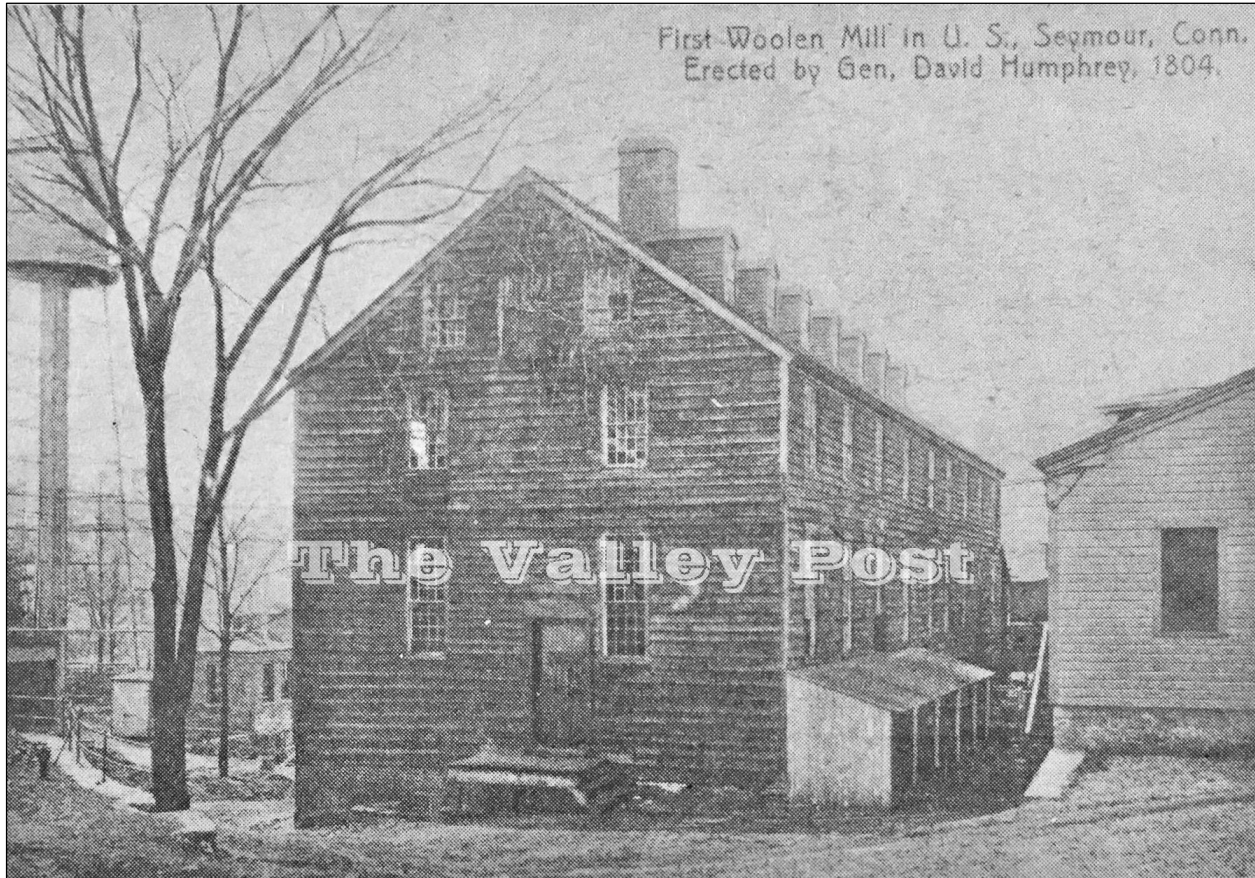

Leah Rondon was an Ansonia resident. She was about to enter first grade at John C. Mead Elementary School when she tragically died Aug. 20, 2015 in a car accident.

The annual fundraiser includes carnival games, crafts, face painting, raffles, performances, and more!

All proceeds will benefit the Leah Rondon Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Click on logo to see more

The Seymour Historical Society showcased this postcard of the first woolen mill in the U.S. by First St., Seymour (then called Humphreysville) in 1804.

It was torn down in 1907.

Thanks to The Valley Post for finding this piece of Valley history.

Derby Historical Society to host Maple Sugaring in Early America

Saturday, February 22

General David Humphreys House

37 Elm St, Ansonia

11 am to 1 pm

The property of the circa 1698 David Humphreys House welcomes you to Maple Sugaring in Early America. Historical interpreter, Tom Nedweden, will boil sap derived from the sugar maples of the Northeast in 17th-century fashion.

Learn about the science behind the sap flow and the history of how it was celebrated and used by indigenous peoples and early European settlers.

Taste a sample of maple syrup on ice.

Cost is $5 per person.

Pre-register by calling 203-735-1908 or e-mail to info@derbyhistorical.org

This is a press release from the Derby Historical Society.

